

WELCOME!

We are pleased to offer a new and exciting program for competitive skaters including elite instruction from world renowned coaches Craig Maurizi and Nikolai Morozov. Skaters will be placed in small groups of 6-8 skaters based on level and ability and will have a unique opportunity to skate in a fast-paced environment with national and world competitors. Technical lessons will be offered daily to focus on jump technique, harness work, spins, program run-throughs, and evaluation of IJS levels and features. Stroking/choreography lessons will also be offered daily to enhance edge quality, power, speed, quickness, and program choreography. For an additional cost, off-ice classes are also available. The unbeatable affordability of our program combines ice time and lessons into three packages to meet everyone's needs; individually priced, lessons and ice time would cost well over $1500/week!

COACHES

Craig Maurizi

Craig has been coaching since 1987. During this time his students have competed in 10 US National Championships, 6 European Championships, 4 World Championships and 2 Olympic Games. Craig is the Director of Figure Skating at internationally

Nikolai Morozov

Nikolai first came to the world's notice through his work with Tatiana Tarasova and Alexei Yagudin on Yagudin's famed 2002 Olympic short program, Winter. By the 2004 Worlds, he had choreographed the programs for all of the ladies who reached the podium in Dortmund including Shizuka Arakawa, Sasha Cohen, and Michelle Kwan. In 2007 Morozov coached world champion Miki Ando and world silver medalist Daisuke Takahashi.
